Description

There's lots to do nearby! Some of the local restaurants will pick you up if you give them a call.

Triad Seafood came highly recommended, and a visit during the late winter or early spring will land you in stone crab season, which ends in May. Triad, however, won't pick you up from the airport.

The National Parks Service Gulf Coast Visitor's Center is temporarily closed, but you can still connect with any of the tour operators in the area. There are lots of outdoor activities you can do in this quiet corner of the Everglades, like kayak rentals or airboat tours.

Camping is probably possible next to your plane in the grass tiedowns next to the runway, but it's better to check with the airport before committing to the plan.
